has fallen on the bed and linen and the house visiting committees, and these committees under the leadership of most efficient chairmen have carried on their work very successfully.

The bed and linen committee has been organized the longest time, and through this committee the board has sent to the hospital blankets, wrappers and slippers, and many dozens of sheets, pillow-cases, towels, napkins, etc. This committee has been much hamper d in its work by the absence of adequate closet room, and it is hoped that, as the hospital grows, there may be proper provision made for storing the supplies.

Under the auspices of the house visiting committee a 'donation day" was held at the hospital last November, and many friends testified to their interest in the work. This committee has made regular visits to the hospital, and has reported to the board many accessories which were needed. Through the chairman the board has supplied the hospital with proper cooking utensils, silver, and many other necessary furnishings. This committee has conferred with the trus-

THE LAST VESTICE

The blacking brush must now go the way of all old fashioned household utensils. It is a breeder of microbes, and consequently in well regulated households should become a thing of the past. The gas range makes this possible, for it needs no blacking. A soft, oiled cloth keeps it in good condition. Order a range to-day. Prices $9.50 to $15.00. $2.00 down; $2.00 a month.
